

Travel tips

- 1 Use a credit or debit card covered by Visa's Zero Liability Policy to help protect against unauthorized charges on your account.*
- 2 Paying by credit or debit card could be considered safer and more convenient than carrying cash.
- 3 Save time and money; when traveling out of country, paying by card in local currency can offer a competitive exchange rate.
- 4 Make two copies of important travel documents, including your passport, in case of emergency.
- 5 Notify your bank and card issuer about your travel plans to help monitor for fraud.
- 6 Set alerts so you can keep track of spending on your phone.
- 7 Data roaming charges can skyrocket while abroad so set up your cellphone to avoid international data roaming or ensure you have an international plan.
- 8 Keep a list of important contacts in case your phone is lost or stolen.
- 9 Check out fun local events such as festivals and concerts in the city you're visiting.

*Visa's Zero Liability policy does not apply to certain commercial card and anonymous prepaid card transactions or transactions not processed by Visa. Cardholders must use care in protecting their card and notify their issuing financial institution immediately of any unauthorized use. Contact your issuer for more detail.
